

Week beginning 5th December

Ladybird Class Weekly Update

We are well and truly into the Christmas spirit now 😊

We are aware that the children are getting very tired (as are we!) and excited and the next two weeks will be jam packed with play rehearsals, card making and writing as well as other festive activities.

We will be learning about the Christmas story.

In Literacy we will be writing our Christmas cards.

In Maths we will be looking at heavy and light using balance scales to weigh things.

Coming home this week will be the poem 'Wise Old Owl'.

Last library book change will be next Friday.

We are nearly there, well done for an amazing term.

Butterfly Class Weekly Update

Next week will be an exciting week for the children!

We will be among Christmas cards, learning more about the Christmas story, and continuing to practise our fantastic nativity play!

In Maths we will be revisiting the different topics from this term and completing some fun Christmas maths.

In Literacy we will be beginning our new purple Read, Write, Ink books and continuing our focus on writing with full stops, capital letters and finger spaces!

We can't wait to enjoy our Christmas lunch on Wednesday, followed by the pantomime on Thursday!

Dragonfly Class Weekly Update

We are having a very busy and exciting few weeks!

Next week:

In English we will be writing the Nativity Story.

In Science and Topic we will be completing our floor books.

Our whole class guided reading text will be The Paper Dolls by Julia Donaldson.

Our afternoons will be busy with rehearsals for our Nativity Play!

Next week on Monday and Tuesday, we will be focusing on all things Christmas!

We will be making Nativity pictures for the Christmas production programme, making Christmas cards and Christmas decorations. We will also be learning about why the angels announced the birth of Jesus. For this the children will look at a picture of the annunciation and we will reflect on the symbolism and meaning of this.
